National Barber Mental Health Awareness Day

National Barber Mental Health Awareness Day on May 19th is a day to recognize the important role barbers play in promoting mental health and well-being. This special holiday was first established in 2020 and serves as an opportunity for people to take time out of their busy schedules to show appreciation for the barbers who provide support, advice, and camaraderie throughout our lives. It's also a great way to spread awareness about mental health issues around the world. It is important to be aware of mental health issues as they can affect anyone regardless of their age or profession. National Barber Mental Health Awareness Day brings attention to the struggles that barbers face daily and encourages supportive conversations about mental health in the community.

Today in History

In 2011, the Alpha Magnetic Spectrometer was installed on the International Space Station. Physicist Samuel Ting led the project to search for the origin of cosmic rays. He received the 1976 Nobel Prize for Physics, along with Burton Richter.

DID YOU KNOW?

Arsenic Dresses

Bottle-green dresses were all the rage in the Victorian era, and very expensive. To achieve this lovely shade of green, the fabric was dyed using large amounts of arsenic. Some women suffered nausea, impaired vision, and skin reactions to the dye. But the dresses were only worn on special occasions, limiting exposure to the arsenic in the fabric. The garment makers were the ones who suffered. Many died just to bring this trend to fashion.
