National Sprinkle Day

Get ready to sprinkle some joy and color into your day because it's National Sprinkle Day! It's the perfect excuse to indulge in the delightful world of sprinkles, those tiny bursts of happiness that make everything better. Whether you prefer the classic rainbow variety or fancy something a bit more adventurous, like chocolate, there is a sprinkle for everyone. Also known as jimmies, hundreds and thousands, and hagelslag, sprinkles come in many shapes and sizes.

From tiny balls to long strands and even funky shapes like leaves and dinosaurs, sprinkles add a pop of excitement to just about any treat. Well, maybe not any treat. We're not sure if they would be a good topping for a hot dog. Anyway, celebrate this sweet occasion by sprinkling a little extra magic and cheer today!

Forever Friends

Marilyn Monroe and Ella Fitzgerald became friends after their first meeting in 1954. When Fitzgerald had trouble booking a gig at a popular nightclub, Monroe used her influence to help her friend secure a booking. Monroe promised to take the front table every night, which drew much attention from the press. The owner agreed, and Fitzgerald never had to play in a small jazz club again.
