Plush Animal Lovers Day

Not all people are animal lovers, but you'd be hard-pressed to find someone who isn't a plush animal lover! As such, we celebrate Plush Animal Lovers Day today as a way to enjoy and appreciate the beloved stuffed animal. Stuffed animals are typically a favorite of children, but there are plenty of adults who love and collect them. This holiday celebrates your favorite childhood friend, confidant, memory keeper, and playmate. As simple as it may seem, every toy has countless stories for many people. From their earliest childhood recollection to a pleasant memory, plushies are meaningful mementos to individuals who collect and treasure them. If you still have one, give it an extra squeeze today, or simply think of all the good times you had with one when you were younger. If you have multiple ones, why not have a stuffy party? You could also give a plush animal to someone today as well!

Today in History

In 2012, Serena Williams won her 3rd season ending tennis title, beating Maria Sharapova in the WTA Championship. Williams turned professional in 1995. With 23 Grand Slam women's singles titles, she is the only female player to have won over $50 million in prize money.

DID YOU KNOW?

A Lot in that Name!

A young Brit named George Garratt wasn't satisfied with his plain name so he decided to change it. Not just any name, he wanted the longest name in the world. Officially becoming: "Captain Fantastic Faster Than Superman Spiderman Batman Wolverine Hulk and the Flash Combined." His grandmother was so upset with him over the name change that she stopped speaking to him. It's hard to say whether that's because she's furious – or if she simply can't remember his new name.
