National Paper Airplane Day

Paper airplanes may not fly as much as they used to, but for some, the folding and flight of paper airplanes is an art form! Prepare for an exciting day of flight on National Paper Airplane Day on May 26th! This special day celebrates the fun and creativity of paper airplane making, which has been around since the early 1900s. You can make your own paper airplanes or participate in a friendly competition with friends.

Whether you're new to paper airplanes or have been folding them since childhood, this is the perfect opportunity to get creative and fly high! How about a friendly paper airplane competition? Maybe try for different categories like distance, aiming for targets, or most decorative planes, and have fun prizes for the winners.
