National Battery Day

From watches and cell phones to smoke detectors and cars, batteries are everywhere and vital to so many electronic devices that we depend on every day. I mean, really, where would we all be if it wasn't for batteries (other than getting up off the couch a lot more to change the channel?) In use since the 19th century, batteries were first created by Italian Scientist Alessandro Volta who, in 1800, layered silver, separated by paper and dipped in salt or acid and zinc to form the 'voltaic piles' which generated current and paved the way for William Cruickhank to mass produce batteries in 1802. Available in various shapes, sizes and capacities, the batteries of today are extremely versatile. On National Battery Day, take a moment to appreciate these mini powerhouses that help power our world.

Today in History

In 1978, Honolulu, Hawaii hosted the 1st Ironman Triathlon, which included a 2.4-mile swim, 112-mile bike ride, and a 26.2-mile run. The single-day endurance event had a $3 entry fee and consisted of 15 men, including US Navy officer John Collins, who organized the event.

DID YOU KNOW?

Birthplace of Indoor Sports

Massachusetts is the birthplace of both basketball and volleyball and is home to the Basketball Hall of Fame and the Volleyball Hall of Fame. William Morgan invented volleyball in 1895 and was influenced by Naismith who created basketball. Both men wanted indoor games to combat the winter weather. Volleyball was originally called Mintonette but was renamed to volleyball.

How To Play:

Each 9x9 box is comprised of 9 smaller 3x3 boxes. Each of these smaller boxes must be filled in with numbers from 1-9. Each row and column of the larger 9x9 box should not have any numbers repeated.

	7		4		1		5
			3			8	2	7
8	5	9					3
	1			6	7	5		2
			1		8			6
6	9	4				7
7		2				9		3
				2	6			8
	6	1		9

					4			6
		3				9	5	7
	5			2			8
						5	1
8			4	5
9			6	8	2	7
		9				1		3
	2		7	6
	7		1					9

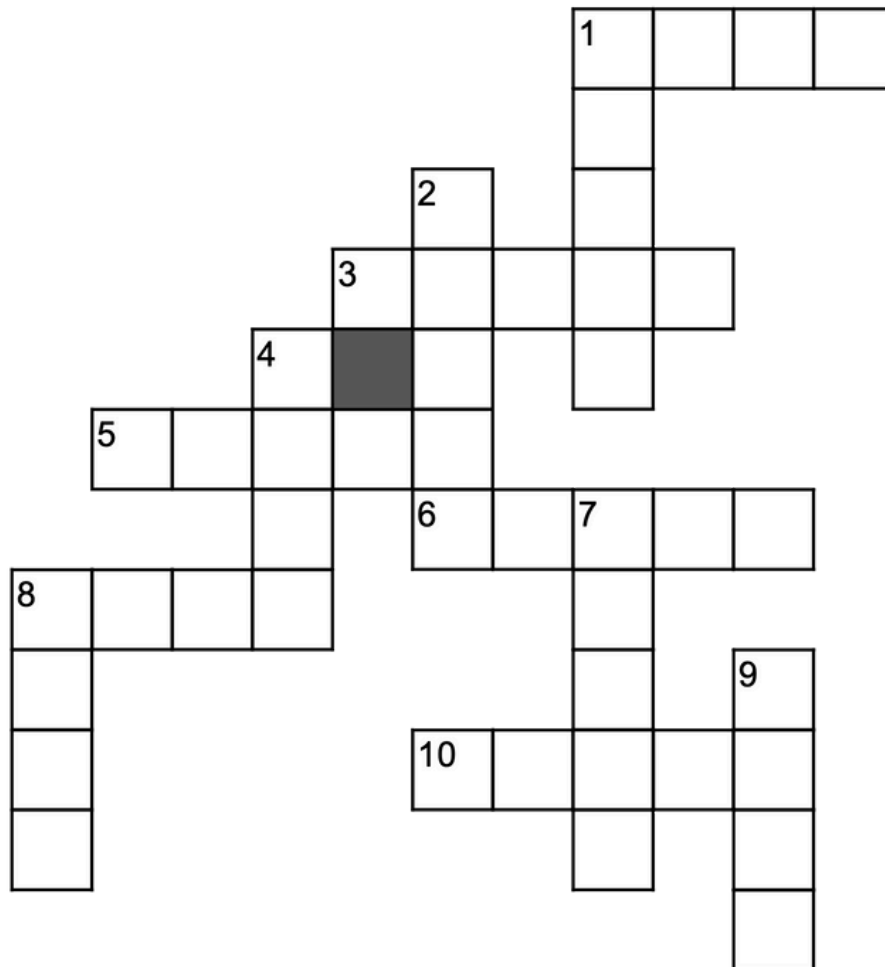

Helpful Tip:

If you get stuck, try asking yourself "Where can I place number X in this row or column?" Scan to see if the number is already in that row, column, or box.
