Falling Into Fall

September is the time when we stash our pool _____
(noun-plural)
and start brainstorming _____ costume (holiday)
ideas. It's also when the fall equinox officially marks the end of one season and the start of the next. So what is it? An equinox is the point at which the _____ sits (noun)
directly above the earth's equator, and _____ and (time of day)
_____ are of approximately equal length across (time of day)
the world. The word "equinox" is derived from two words:
aequus, which is Latin for "_____,", and (adjective)
nox, Latin for "_____". It is also the halfway point (noun)
between _____ and _____.
(season) (season)
So get out those _____ and get cozy
(noun-plural)
by the _____!
