What Happens September 22? The Autumnal Equinox!

September is the time when we stash our pool _____ (noun-plural) and start brainstorming _____ (holiday) costume ideas. It's also when the fall equinox officially marks the end of one season and the start of the next. So what is it? An equinox is the point at which the _____ (noun) sits directly above the earth's equator, and _____ (time of day) and _____ (time of day) are of approximately equal length across the world. The word "equinox" is derived from two words: aequus, which is Latin for "_____ (adjective)," and nox, Latin for "_____ (noun)". It is also the halfway point between _____ (season) and _____ (season). So get out those _____ (noun-plural) and get cozy by the _____ (noun)!
