Daniel Boone Day

Today is Daniel Boone Day, a celebration of the famous outdoorsman known for his explorations in the Kentucky hills. He founded Boonesborough, Kentucky, one of the first American settlements west of the Appalachian Mountains. Daniel Boone was a skilled fur trader and frontiersman best known for leading an expedition of men through the Cumberland Pass, providing access to America's western frontier. By the early 19th century, an estimated 200,000 settlers had traveled through the pass, known as the Wilderness Road. One of these settlers was Abraham Lincoln's father, who resided in Kentucky, the birthplace of our 16th president. Boone is still remembered as an American folk hero and was the subject of a popular television show from 1964 to 1970, starring Fess Parker.

Today in History

In 1975, John Denver's "Thank God I'm a Country Boy" hit #1 on the charts. Over the course of his life, he recorded and released approximately 300 songs, composing about 200 of them. His songs have sold over 33 million copies, making him one of the best-selling artists of all time.

DID YOU KNOW?

Transforming Pain Beautifully

Pearls form when an oyster is wounded by an irritant, like a grain of sand or a parasite. To protect itself, the oyster secretes layers of nacre, coating the intruder over time. This process turns a source of discomfort into a beautiful pearl, symbolizing a transformation from pain to value. The more pearls an oyster produces, the more precious it becomes.

How To Play:

Each 9x9 box is comprised of 9 smaller 3x3 boxes. Each of these smaller boxes must be filled in with numbers from 1-9. Each row and column of the larger 9x9 box should not have any numbers repeated.

4	5	8				2
			2		3
		2		4		9	6	5
	4	9		1	5			3
	1							8
		5	6	9	8
7			9	2	4		5
2						4	7
			3		6	8

					2	4		7
		5	1	4				9
