Superman Day

It's a bird, it's a plane, it's...
Superman! Originally a character in a comic book, Superman was jettisoned from his dying home planet of Krypton to a small town on Earth, only to discover he had superhuman abilities. A few of the super-traits Superman has on Earth are x-ray vision, super speed, incredible strength, and the ability to fly.

Each June 12th, this action hero is recognized on his special day. Portrayed first on TV by George Reeves and then immortalized on the big screen by Christopher Reeve, Superman has also been played in movies by Brandon Routh and Henry Cavill, to name a few. Which of Superman's abilities would you choose if you could have just one?

Pink Lemonade Origin

The circus introduced pink lemonade in the 1800s, with two origin stories. One credits Henry E. Allott, who accidentally dropped red cinnamon candies into lemonade. The other tale involves clown Pete Conklin, who, out of the water, used pink water from a bin where bareback rider Fannie Jamieson washed her red tights. After adding sugar and lemon, he created a hit “strawberry lemonade,” confirmed by his brother, lion-tamer George.
