World Four Leaf Clover Day

Today just might be your lucky day. It is World Four-Leaf Clover Day. Your sole objective is to find a four-leaf clover. According to Irish folklore, a four-leaf clover will bring you good luck, and we all could use a little of that. Your search is a daunting one. It is estimated that only 1 in 10,000 clover leaves are four-leaved. However, it's the beginning of August, and life slows down at this time of the year. All it takes is for each of us to find our four-leaf clover.

Sorry, there is no sharing. You must find one for yourself. Otherwise, the magic of the four-leaf clover will not occur. So, why not look for one outdoors, on clothing, or in a drawing or picture?

DID YOU KNOW? Speedy Coffee Break

Three Italian inventors contributed to the creation of espresso. Angelo Moriondo patented a steam coffee machine in 1884, but it could only brew large batches. Nearly two decades later, Luigi Bezzera developed an espresso machine that reduced brewing time to 30 seconds, catering to workers. With Desiderio Pavoni's help, their revamped machine debuted at the 1906 World's Fair in Milan, where they sold "caffè espresso."
