National Live Creative Day

Let your creative juices flow on National Live Creative Day on September 14th. It's a day to let the world see our works in progress in any form and explore our imagination. Tap into your creative side by taking the time to invent, discover, and dream. You don't have to be Picasso, Aretha, or Barishnykov to add a little creativity to your everyday life. Whether it's by painting, creating graphic art, playing music, dancing, writing, or gardening, art has an impact on our lives. Best of all, renewing a hobby reduces stress.

Stepping into the Live Creative world includes a tremendous sense of freedom. Rules tend to fall away when we unleash our imagination. Simply being exposed to the arts inspires ideas at home and in the workplace.

Today in History

In 1901, Theodore Roosevelt was sworn in as the youngest man to serve as U.S. President, after William McKinley passed away. To date, he is the only President of the United States to be awarded the Medal of Honor. Roosevelt is one of 4 presidents to be carved into Mount Rushmore.

DID YOU KNOW? Jerry Lee Lewis and the Devil

A lesser-known fact about Jerry Lee Lewis is his brief, yet impactful, time at the Southwest Bible Institute. His mother sent him hoping he'd sing only gospel, but Lewis, unable to suppress his fiery musical instincts, dared to play a boogie-woogie rendition of "My God Is Real" at a church assembly. This performance led to his expulsion, highlighting the lifelong struggle between his strict religious upbringing and his undeniable passion for "the devil's music."
