National Resolution Planning Day

If you finished your to-do list yesterday but forgot to plan your resolutions for the new year, you're in luck. Today is National Resolution Planning Day, so you can spend some time today thinking about your goals for next year and planning out how you'll accomplish them! Created in 2017 as a way to reflect on the past year, identify goals for the future, and create a plan of action, National Resolution Planning Day is also a great way to bring friends and family together to support each other in working towards their dreams. Just because only 10% of people are successful at keeping their New Year's resolutions doesn't mean you shouldn't try. Plan your resolutions for the new year today!

Today in History

In 1981, Stevie Wonder released his single "That Girl," which won Billboard Song of the Year in 1982. Wonder was a child prodigy and signed with Motown Records when he was 11 years old. He's won 25 Grammy Awards and was inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in 1989.

DID YOU KNOW?

Fourteen Sleeps 'til Payday

Did you know the word "fortnight" is a linguistic survivor from Old English that literally means "fourteen nights"? Though rarely heard in the United States, the term is still commonly used in Great Britain and other former British colonies to refer to a period of two weeks. It frequently pops up when people discuss their pay schedules, vacations, or biweekly occurrences.
