World Compliment Day

Created by Hans Poortvliet of the Netherlands in the early 2000s, World Compliment Day (originally called National Compliment Day) is a day to address the basic human need for recognition and appreciation. If you've ever received a compliment, you know how good it makes you feel. Everyone loves compliments, not only because they make people feel happy, but because they increase self-esteem, self-worth, pride, and create mutual well-being, and when given on a job, they increase productivity. To participate in this day, all you have to do is simply give people you meet a sincere, honest, positive compliment. They'll feel better about themselves, and you'll feel good, too!

Today in History

In 1968, singers Johnny Cash and June Carter were married in Franklin, Kentucky. They were married just one week after Cash proposed while performing together in London, Ontario, Canada. The couple had 3 children before tying the knot.

DID YOU KNOW?

The Big Cheese Bluff

Philadelphia is famous for cheesesteaks and root beer, but its namesake cream cheese is an impostor! In the 1870s, William Lawrence of Chester, New York, created a richer recipe using cream and full-fat milk. To capitalize on Philly's reputation for high-end dairy, he branded it "Philadelphia Cream Cheese" in 1880. This clever marketing ploy worked perfectly, forever linking the city to a product it had not actually invented.
