National Tell a Story Day

Today encourages people of all ages to share their tales. Storytelling has been a tradition for centuries, passing down knowledge from generation to generation. It is a great way to share family traditions, histories, and memorable moments while also being entertaining and educational. Whether you are recounting childhood memories or real-life experiences, storytelling is a great way to connect with others and foster creativity.

National Tell a Story Day encourages everyone to participate, from the youngest to the oldest. Get together with family and friends to share stories. You can tell a story from a book or create one from your imagination. Everyone has a story to tell, so go ahead and share yours!

Today in History

In 1927, American civil rights activist Coretta Scott was born. She later added “King” to her last name when she married Martin Luther King, Jr. In addition to being an activist, King was also a singer. She met her husband while in graduate school.

DID YOU KNOW? Why Pencils are Yellow

In 1899, the Hardtmuth Pencil Company revolutionized the industry by painting their premium pencils yellow. This color choice was designed to showcase their high-quality graphite sourced from Siberia, utilizing a hue traditionally associated with Chinese royalty. This strategic marketing campaign, launched over 120 years ago, proved so successful that yellow became the global standard for pencils, forever transforming a simple utility into an iconic symbol of stationery worldwide.
