National Pet Day

Today is a day dedicated to celebrating pets, including those that are unadopted and may not always receive the love and attention they deserve. While we love our pets every day, we can also help orphaned pets by donating toys, food supplies, and other essentials to local shelters. If you have been considering adopting a new furry friend, today would be a great day to do so and give them a forever home.

It's important to double-check your pet's collar to ensure that their tags are secure and their information is current. Additionally, you can show your pet some extra love today by giving them a warm bath and a good rubdown.

Today in History

In 1936, the musical “On Your Toes” opened at the Imperial Theatre in New York City. The show was choreographed by George Balanchine, composed by Richard Rodgers, and Lorenz Hart wrote the lyrics. It ran for 515 performances.

DID YOU KNOW?

Hedy Had It All

Hedy Lamarr, a Hollywood starlet in the 1940s and 1950s, was also a brilliant inventor. She developed frequency hopping for torpedoes, a technology that later influenced Wi-Fi and GPS. Despite her inventions, she was primarily recognized for her beauty. Sadly, she went uncredited for many creations, faced financial struggles, and battled drug addiction.
