National All Is Ours Day

Every year on April 8th, we mark National All Is Ours Day. It is a day to be grateful for everything we have in life and to pause and consider how beautiful the natural world is. We frequently overlook the abundance of natural resources available to us, such as the diverse range of birds living in our backyards or local parks, and the national parks and trail networks. Gazing at the sky or the fresh springtime blooming up close is only one way to enjoy the amazing gift of being aware of our environment.

This day can be celebrated in a variety of ways, such as by counting our blessings and pausing to appreciate what we have in life. When we all work together, sharing what we have can also make difficult times easier.

Today in History

In 1968, the 40th Annual Academy Awards were postponed to April 10th to mourn the assassination of civil rights leader Martin Luther King. The Governors Ball was canceled. Most nominees were present at the ceremony, and there was a tribute to King.

DID YOU KNOW? "Yabba dabba doo!"

The Fred Flintstone's catchphrase came from Alan Reed, who voiced Fred and reportedly used the line during a recording session. Reed's mother used to say, "A little dab'll do ya," which inspired Reed. Reed asked if he could say yabba-dabba-doo where the script said yahoo. It was one of the most terrific phrases ever, Barbera said.
