World Four-Leaf Clover Day

Today just might be your lucky day. It is World Four-Leaf Clover Day. Your sole objective is to find a four-leaf clover. According to Irish folklore, a four-leaf clover will bring you good luck, and we all could use a little of that. Your search is a daunting one. It is estimated that only 1 in 10,000 clover leaves are four-leaved. However, it's the beginning of August, and life slows down at this time of the year. All it takes is for each of us to find our four-leaf clover.

Sorry, there is no sharing. You must find one for yourself. Otherwise, the magic of the four-leaf clover will not occur. So, why not look for one outdoors, on clothing, or in a drawing or picture?

Today in History

In 1952, boxer Floyd Patterson won the gold medal in the middleweight division at the Helsinki Olympic Games at the age of 17. He became the youngest heavyweight champion of the world at the age of 21. Patterson retired in 1972 with 55 wins (40 knockouts), 8 losses, and one draw.

DID YOU KNOW? New Words and Phrases

Merriam-Webster added 690 brand-new words, phrases, and acronyms to the dictionary in 2023. These words were only added after a professional lexicographer evaluated them and deemed them worthy enough for inclusion. Some are from the internet and other from news, and some from popular TV shows. See if you know any of these words: Bracketology, Chef's kiss, Goated, Jump scare, and our favorite: NGL - shorthand for "not gonna lie".
