Thankful for My Dog Day

It's Thankful for My Dog Day. Let's celebrate man's best friend today by letting them know how thankful you are for them. Thankful for My Dog Day was created in 2020 by M.Y.O.S. Canine Muscle Formula and is a day dedicated to appreciating man's best friend for cheering us up, making us laugh, and offering companionship, love, undeniable loyalty, and joy.

Did you know that dogs are in the class of animals known as Caniformia, which is Latin for "dog-like"? Others in this family include raccoons, bears, foxes, and skunks. Some believe dogs evolved from wolves, and others believe they evolved alongside wolves. Either way, all dogs—large and small, fluffy and scruffy, yappy and quiet—regardless of breed, deserve to be loved, especially today.

Today in History

In 1936, legendary Delta blues musician Robert Johnson had his first recording session with producer Don Law at the Gunter Hotel in San Antonio. Robert Johnson, a traveling musician in the 1930s, rediscovered his music in the 1960s, influencing Eric Clapton, Bob Dylan, and others.

DID YOU KNOW? Cold-Blooded Myth, Warm-Blooded Killer

Sixty-six million years after its last breath, Tyrannosaurus rex just had its temperature taken. Chemical signatures trapped inside fossilized enamel reveal the massive predator burned at a warm 97°F (36°C). Instead of sluggishly sunbathing like a lizard, this apex killer packed an internal engine powerful enough to hunt through freezing sub-zero winters.
